

Repair services follow a structured intake process where mechanics evaluate the issue and provide an estimated timeline and quote. Standard repairs take 2–5 days, while custom fabrication or powdercoat work may require up to two weeks. Rush services are available for an additional fee. All repaired bikes undergo a final quality check before being returned to the customer.